

RRH People Count Data to Back Fill Bed Count Fields:

For HMIS participating RRH programs, users can first confirm their people count data. Once the user has confirmed the people count information the PIT App will auto update the bed count information to match the total persons counted by household type.

These counts appear to be incorrect, and I will come back after making the appropriate changes in HMIS.

I hereby affirm that these counts have been verified and are accurate.

Households with at least one adult and one child:

The PIT App will use the household count to populate the number of units and it will use the total person count to populate the number of beds.
